Bridges Hints Russian Subs 'Spy' On U. S.

Says Might Well Be Watching ICB Missile Test Site In Florida

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Styles Bridges R-N. H. said today the Russians may be spying from submarines on U. S. development of the first intercontinental ballistic missile.

The Senate armed services committee told the National Security and Foreign Relations Commissions of the American Legion that "it is no secret we are experimenting with an ICB missile at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla."

Bridges added: "If submarines are in this vicinity and if they are Russian, it may well be they are watching our progress on the first intercontinental ballistic missile."

He said he was confident the Navy is "pretty well alert to the submarine menace."

The Navy, however, said it had no knowledge of any sightings of Russian submarines off the Florida base. Another Pentagon spokesman said there are no "confirmed" reports of "unidentified or Russian" subs in that area "this year."

Bridges defended the administration's decision not to match Russia in military manpower or "weapon for weapon, or plane for plane." The policy has been under attack by Democrats.

Flood Waters Plague Texas

DALLAS (AP) — Surging rivers and creeks, driven out of their banks by six days of torrential rains, flooded parts of Texas today, but the cloudbursts that drenched portions of the state yesterday began tapering off.

Tornadoes, thunderstorms and winds of hurricane force battered the state yesterday. The cloudbursts drove already swollen rivers and streams out of their banks in central Texas, flooding parts of several towns and highways. At least five persons were reported drowned.

Disaster forces were being mobilized to handle serious floods. Several hundred persons living in South San Marcos, 20 miles south of Austin, evacuated homes last night and early today as the Blanco River rose threateningly.

Israel Frees West Virginia Woman Accused Of 'Spying'

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli authorities said today Mary Frances Hagan, 29, of Huntington, W. Va., will be released from prison Sunday and will leave immediately for the United States.

She was convicted last October of spying for Syria and sentenced to one year in prison. She was arrested last August and charged with violating Israel's official secrets law by collecting secret information and making notes of it. Spokesmen said she was being released on recommendation of

Eisenhower Raps Labor 'Racketeers'

Says Leaders Who Abuse Power, Trust Not Fit For Offices

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today called labor racketeering "an abomination which must be eliminated." He said union leaders who abuse power and trust "are not fit to hold union offices."

Eisenhower expressed those views in a statement after a 90-minute conference here with Secretary of Labor Mitchell. The President called for swift enactment of legislation to provide for: 1. Registration, reporting and public disclosure of full data on union health and welfare funds. The administration already has a bill before Congress to take care of that.

Public Financial Records
2. Public disclosure of all other financial records of unions, including such items as dues collected, the salaries of union officials, and the amount of money in union treasuries.

In his statement the President said the administration has followed "with intense interest" the efforts of a Senate special committee "to bring to light disclosures of corrupt practices and abuses by officers and members of some labor unions."

Must Be Eliminated
"Labor racketeering, like corruption anywhere, is an abomination which must be eliminated if and whenever it occurs. Any officer and employee of labor—and it appears there have been few—who abuse the power and trust imposed upon them are not fit to hold union offices," he said.

"The American working man and woman deserve from labor leadership high standards of trust and fidelity."

Russia Calls U. S. 'Hostile' To Attacks

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has charged that a "hostile campaign" is being conducted against Soviet officials in the United States and that it is "supported and even encouraged by certain American official circles."

The Foreign Ministry called in Richard Davis, U. S. charge d'affaires, yesterday and handed him a note containing the charges. It said the Soviets expect the U. S. government to create "normal conditions" for Russian officials to discharge their official functions.

The note claimed the Soviet ambassador, the Soviet Embassy and its staff and the Soviet U. N. delegation all were targets of an "impenetrable campaign" in the United States. It said there recently has been a "marked increase" in moves "obviously aimed at casting aspersions on activities" of Soviet officials.

Davis, said he could not obtain any specific examples of the allegations.

W. Va. Receiving Auto Tag Forms

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — More than 700 auto owners already have applied for their 1956 license plates. Motor Vehicles Commissioner Joseph P. Condy said today.

Car owners may use the new plates after June 1, but they must be displayed by July.

Jordan Fight Eyed Closely; King Boosted

Ike, Dulles Proclaim Hussein Regime Vital To Interests, Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States put on a mighty display of force today to back up its warning to Jordan's neighbors against carving up that crisis-ridden Middle Eastern state.

Basic policy was laid down by the vacation White House at Augusta, Ga., last night after President Eisenhower had conferred by phone with Secretary of State Dulles in Washington. The core of that pronouncement was that this country regards "the independence and integrity of Jordan as vital 'to U. S. interests and world peace.'"

Today that statement was backed up by an order to the U. S. 6th Fleet to sail from the western to the eastern Mediterranean. That would put the fleet in position for action.

The apparent aim was to give young King Hussein a full opportunity to save his country from political collapse with a minimum of outside interference.

For the moment, there was no indication here that Eisenhower and Dulles had any desire to intervene militarily on Jordan's behalf. The indication, diplomats said, was rather that they wanted to remind Middle Eastern countries of U. S. interest, policy and ability to act.

Arms Paralyzed By Polio, Drives Across Continent

NEW YORK (AP) — A 26-year-old Californian, a polio victim who lost the use of his arms, drove across the continent in six days in a car equipped with foot steering controls.

Cameron Enns of Kingsburg, Calif., arrived here yesterday to deliver the auto to a New York mother who wanted it for her daughter, similarly stricken by polio. The names of the mother and daughter were not disclosed. Enns was stricken by polio in 1932. With an engineer friend, he turned out a device by which he can steer a car with his left foot while operating all other controls with his right. He is licensed to drive in California.

King Blames Communists For Trouble

Curfew Imposed, All Political Parties Are Abolished By Hussein

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The future of Jordan hung in the balance today.

A new government was named and martial law was clamped on the country.

King Hussein declared his intention to fight out the crisis. He blamed international communism for bringing it on.

Today a total curfew was imposed on the capital city of Amman, the Old City of Jerusalem, Nablus, Ramallah and Irbid near the Syrian frontier.

Under the decree of martial law police were put under control of the army, whose tough-core Bedouin fighters are loyal to King Hussein.

Parties Abolished
The country's 10 political parties were abolished.

Ibrahim Hashem, 83, was chosen to head a seven-man Cabinet of moderates.

The eight-day-old Cabinet of Hussein Khaldi resigned last night after six hours of rioting by mobs inspired by Communists and other extremist factions.

King Hussein insisted in talks with American reporters that he did not need outside assistance. Hussein stressed this again today.

He disclosed he would not invite Rep. James P. Richards, special representative of President Eisenhower, to Amman to explain the President's Middle East program. Hussein said he would decide "with other Arab states" whether they would accept the Eisenhower program.

At the time he spoke last night he evidently had in mind the change of government that came today, since he said there would be developments to strengthen his hand.

Troops Quell Riots
(Troops of Saudi Arabia and Syria came into parts of Jordan last fall and have remained there. Today travelers reaching Damascus reported Hussein was using Saudi troops to quell riots west of the River Jordan.)

Hussein broadcast to his people for half an hour today.

He spoke out against Communism, calling them "spies behind our lines."

In a low, solemn voice the 21-year-old King sought to identify the forces which he blamed for the government crisis that has rocked Jordan for more than two weeks.

He declared "I found it wise to get rid of" the Cabinet of Suleiman Nabulsi.

Not In New Cabinet
Ex-Premier Nabulsi was a member of the Khaldi Cabinet. He is not in the new government.

As to the Nabulsi government, he dismissed more than two weeks ago, Hussein said: "You all know the contradictions into which the Nabulsi government fell. The ministers themselves complained, government officials as well, and it was necessary to let them go after they removed official civil servants and brought in Communists to spread their principles."

"Communists in Jordan are brothers and collaborators of Communist Jews who take their instruction from Tel Aviv, the center of communism in the Middle East. These people became spies for our enemy. None can trust them except those who don't care for Arab nationalism."

Rackets Testimony Aired For Perjury

U. N. Tourist Mark Broken

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — A new sightseeing record was set at the U. N. yesterday as 6,283 tourists visited the tall glassed headquarters building in New York.

The U. N. reported that 544 more people toured the 30-story skyscraper than on April 23, 1955, when 5,739 visitors were recorded.

ANPA Says Strikes Not Warranted

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Newspaper Publishers Assn. was slated to re-elect William Dwight as president today in the windup of its three-day convention.

The ANPA's Special Standing Committee reported that disputes between employees and publishers do not warrant strikes.

"Last year," it said, "there were 14 newspaper strikes that produced nothing, whereas ANPA members had 67 arbitration cases that preserved publication for the public while preserving wages for workers."

"Newspaper wages are highest in American industry through negotiation and arbitration. "Newspaper strikes in the last five years have been disastrous for employees as proved by 20 International Typographical Union walkouts that forced 13 of those 20 publishers to continue without that union."

"In the last 12 years that union has lost contracts with 79 newspapers in 26 cities by insisting on a strike instead of arbitration urged by the ANPA."

"Biggest strike of 1936 was that by the (American Newspaper) Guild against the Cleveland Press, followed by the immediate Guild picketing of the two other Cleveland papers resulting in the suspension of all three Cleveland newspapers for a substantial period," said the report.

Guided Bombs To Be Installed On British Craft

LONDON (AP) — The Air Ministry announced today British bombers will soon be fitted with rocket-driven guided bombs which will "form for many years the foundation of our deterrent power."

The announcement also said Britain had developed an air-to-air guided missile which tracks down and destroys enemy planes by following the heat rays given off by the aircraft.

These developments are part of the revolutionary five-year program to reshape Britain's fighting forces to meet the requirements of the nuclear age—at less expense.

U. S. Reveals No Reasons For Orders

Regarded As Tie-in To Statement Jordan Is Vital To Interests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. 6th Fleet has been ordered back to Eastern Mediterranean waters, obviously in connection with the crisis in Jordan.

The fleet has been in French and Italian ports for the last 10 days.

The Pentagon, announcing the shift, gave no details, and offered no reasons.

Vital To Interests
However, it appeared certain that the move ties in with last night's pronouncement from President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles that they regard "the independence and integrity of Jordan as vital to U. S. interests and world peace."

Eisenhower has related the situation in Jordan to the pledge he obtained from Congress earlier this year to provide U. S. military help to any country in the Middle East threatened by international communism, if the threatened country asks for aid.

King Hussein of Jordan said only yesterday that his troubles come from machinations of international communism.

Mobs, with at least Red backing, have been demanding the ouster of the latest Jordanian Cabinet and restoration of ousted officials who had favored ties with Moscow and closer relations with Egypt and Syria.

Forrestal Leads Way
The Pentagon announcement followed word from Cannes that the U. S. supercarrier Forrestal, lead ship of the 6th Fleet, and the rest of the force had set out hurriedly from that French port.

So sudden were the orders for the sailing that the Forrestal left without 150 of her crew, who were on leave in Paris.

There was no announcement in Cannes on the fleet's destination, but it was assumed there the ships would go to the Middle East.

With the 60,000-ton supercarrier, the Navy's biggest, went the cruisers Salem and Des Moines and a covey of escorting destroyers.

The Forrestal and Salem had been scheduled to stay on the French Riviera until April 30. The Des Moines and her three escorts had been visiting Marseille.

Leaves 150 Behind
The Forrestal's orders came so suddenly that she left 150 of her 3,500-man crew on leave in Paris. The U. S. naval attaché in the French capital was alerted to round up the men, presumably to fly them to join their ship.

The American stand supporting Jordan's integrity, and calling it vital to U. S. interests and world peace, was a restatement of the Eisenhower Doctrine. The White House reiterated it last night, presumably about the time orders were going out to the U. S. 6th Fleet to leave Italian and French ports. The aircraft carrier Forrestal left Cannes, France.

The fleet was in the eastern Mediterranean at the time of the Suez crisis last fall.

Ava, Frankie Divorce Due
PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Actress Ava Gardner's long separation from crooner Frank Sinatra appeared headed today for permanency—probably via a Mexican divorce court.

The Orphans' Court in Philadelphia received two requests yesterday for certified copies of the couple's marriage certificate.

The sultry brunette and Sinatra have been separated and reconciled several times since their wedding in Philadelphia in 1951. The present separation began in 1954.

Ava has been living in Spain in recent years and her name has been linked romantically with Italian comedian Walter Chiari.

Hit-Runner Play Ruling Clarified

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Warren C. Giles of the National League today announced that in the future both the runner who is hit by a batted ball and the batter will be declared out if the runner willfully permits himself to be struck.

The American League also is adopting a similar rule, effective today, Giles said.

Catholics Urged To Shun Crusade By Billy Graham

NEW YORK (AP) — A priest's admonition that Roman Catholics should not attend evangelist Billy Graham's forthcoming New York crusade has led to a statement by Graham's office here that his sermons will be "the simple gospel message as found in the Bible."

The statement yesterday was authorized by Graham at his Montreat, N. C., home where he is preparing for the six-week New York crusade starting May 15.

The new statement to Roman Catholics not to attend the crusade or listen to Graham's broadcasts was made by the Rev. John E. Kelly, director of the Bureau of Information of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, Washington, D. C.

The priest, writing in the current issue of Homiletic and Pastoral Review, said Graham is "a danger to the faith" for Catholics who listen to him.

U. N. To Consider Suez Canal Issue

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP) — Hope was held in some quarters at the U. N. today that Egypt's plan for running the Suez Canal might still be subject to some change. Others felt President Nasser had laid down his final rules for operation of the vital Middle East waterway.

Delegates generally declined on the record comment on the plan that provides complete Egyptian control over operations and toll money but calls for arbitration of disputes.

Acting at the request of U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, the Security Council scheduled a session for tomorrow on the canal issue. Lodge said the council should "take note of the situation regarding passage through the Suez Canal."

To Report On Talks

A U. S. spokesman said Lodge would report on the recent Egyptian-U. S. canal talks in Cairo and that the council debate would not close the door to future private negotiations. He said the United States does not plan a resolution calling for any council action, but that the request for the meeting does not mean the United States is in substantial agreement with Egypt.

The Egyptian canal plan was submitted to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld by Egyptian Delegate Omar Loutfi for registration as an "international instrument." Egyptian officials insisted it would have the force of an international treaty registered with the United Nations, but the declaration provided no penalties for anyone violating it.

The declaration said Egypt would: (1) maintain free and uninterrupted navigation "within the limits and in accordance with the provisions" of the 1888 Constantinople Convention; (2) collect all tolls, paying the Egyptian government 5 per cent in royalties; (3) establish a fund of 25 per cent of all tolls for canal development; (4) limit toll increases to 1 per cent a year unless negotiations with users provided for more.

Group To Air Disputes

The memorandum also said any dispute over canal operation regulations would be referred to a three-man group, one named by the complaining party, one by

Egypt's Suez Canal Authority and the third by mutual agreement or by the head of the World Court if there is no agreement.

Disputes on compensation to former canal company shareholders would be arbitrated "in accordance with established international practice." Disputes over interpretation of the 1888 convention or the Egyptian memorandum would go to the World Court if they could not be settled under the U. N. Charter.

In a letter accompanying the Suez declaration, Egypt claimed it was in line with Egypt's understanding of the six principles adopted Oct. 13 by the Security Council for a canal settlement. Egypt accepted the proposals at that time.

While apparently meeting some of the six principles, there was question here as to the declaration's provision for open transit, the council call for insulation from national politics and the fixing of tolls by agreement.

An Egyptian delegation spokesman said Israeli ships "definitely" will continue to be barred from the canal. The Egyptians argue that such action does not violate the 1888 convention, which authorizes certain defense measures. Egypt has refused to let Israeli ships use the canal on grounds that a technical state of war still exists between the two countries.

Wants To Use Waterway

Israel has demanded that it be permitted to use the waterway.

Dispatches from Cairo said the Egyptians believed they had made major concessions in the interests of freedom of navigation and guarantees to canal users.

U. S. officials in Washington said the Egyptian plan falls short of the American idea for running the canal, and that the United States now looks to the Security Council for guidance. The U. S. objection centered on Egypt's failure to include the six principles in the declaration.

The report listed 1956 property losses in robberies, burglaries and thefts at 440 million dollars, 13.8 per cent greater than in 1955.

Stalin Purge Leader Gets Prison Term

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungary's Communist regime announced today Mihaly Farkas, notorious Stalin era purger who reportedly tortured Premier Janos Kadar when Kadar was out of favor, has been sentenced to 16 years in prison.

He apparently was convicted at a secret trial.

Farkas, minister of defense and three-star general in the regime of former dictator Matyas Rakosi, was the first of the old Stalinist leaders to be sentenced in Hungary.

He was arrested last October, before the unsuccessful anti-Communist rebellion which brought Kadar back to power as the choice of the Russians. He remained in prison through the uprising.

Farkas, 53, a Jew, and his son Vladimir played leading roles in the prosecution in 1949-50 of other former Communist leaders whose names were cleared later.

Senator Sees No Tax Cuts This Session

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today he doubts there will be any tax reduction legislation at this session, even if sharp cuts are made in President Eisenhower's budget.

"It would be more prudent and sound from a fiscal basis to wait until early next year before considering tax reduction," the Republican Senate leader said in an interview.

Some Democrats in Congress, among them Speaker of the House (Rayburn (D-Tex.)), have been talking about a tax reduction bill this year to take effect next Jan. 1. House Republican Leader Martin (R-Mass.) also has been forecasting a tax cut next year.

Knowland said no one is asking that a tax reduction take effect earlier than next January, and added:

"No responsible member of Congress is suggesting that we should reduce taxes in time of deficit that would just up the national debt."

John Gorrie, an American physician, invented mechanical refrigeration and was granted a patent on his invention in 1851.

U. S. Tells Canada Polish Aid Won't Hit Wheat Sale

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials negotiating an aid agreement with Poland are trying also to reassure Canada that the deal won't cut into Canadian wheat sales.

Officials said today they are hopeful they can sign an agreement by mid-May with Polish negotiators who have been in Washington since February.

The Poles came in response to the Eisenhower administration's invitation. The administration offered to lend economic aid to any country, such as Poland, which had managed to ease the yoke of Moscow domination.

The United States has offered to provide 105 million dollars in U. S. aid, officials said. This would include 30 million dollars in loans for such things as mining machinery and farm implements from President Eisenhower's special contingency fund, and 75 million dollars worth of surplus farm goods.

The Canadian government has expressed concern to Washington about wheat aspects of the deal. They consider Poland a continuing market for Canadian wheat.

The Canadians have been told, officials said, that whatever U. S. wheat goes to Poland will be ticketed for the Polish food reserve. They contend this stockpiling of wheat will interfere in no way with continuing Canadian sales to Poland for day-to-day consumption.

County Board Accepts Bid For Project

William A. Burke's bid of $54,721 to install floor tile and underlayment on the floor of the auxiliary court room at the Court House was accepted Tuesday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The county commissioners will use the room for its meetings in the near future. The present meeting room will be utilized by the finance department of the board.

The bid of D. W. Martin for the abandoned Mt. Savage School building has been accepted by the board. He offered $600 for the property, which has been vacant many years.

The commissioners said Martin's bid was the only one received. The Consolidated Coal Company, which had the right to buy the property at the highest bid offered under a clause in an old deed, notified the commissioners they did not want to exercise that right.

Ellsworth L. Rigglesman, Mt. Savage, applied for a position as dog warden. He said he has been affiliated with a number of sports clubs and is qualified for the position. The county's new dog law provides for the appointment of dog wardens.

A letter was received by the board from Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, expressing the appreciation of the Board of Education for the approval of the new school budget by the county commissioners.

Goodwill Stores To Open Outlet Here Tomorrow

Goodwill Industries, the largest non-profit rehabilitation agency in the country, will open a sales outlet at 107 Virginia Avenue tomorrow, according to Harvey E. Kettering 2nd, executive director of Hagerstown Goodwill Industries, Inc.

The agency plans to begin its operations in Cumberland with a retail sales outlet of reconditioned clothing, shoes and toys which have been processed by handicapped workers. The store sales become wages for the handicapped workers.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Fisher of 310 Harrison Street will manage the local store. He is presently recovering from a heart condition.

Operations of Goodwill Industries include the collection of discarded clothing, shoes, appliances and furniture, which are later processed and repaired in Goodwill's sheltered workshops where handicapped men and women are employed.

The Cumberland branch will be a division of the Goodwill Industries in Hagerstown with the hope that in the future Cumberland will be able to have a local autonomous outlet.

Four Equity Suits Filed

Bills of complaint in four equity suits have been docketed in Circuit Court. They are: Lora F. Sirbaugh against Leonard Sirbaugh, James L. Pine against Joanne Pine, Mary Lee Wilfong against Lloyd E. Wilfong and Gilda C. Dyche against James F. Dyche.

Woman Asks Injunction On Road Use

An equity suit has been filed in Circuit Court by Mrs. Genevieve Youkers Schaffer, part owner of a 25-acre track atop Polish Mountain, seeking an injunction to prevent the use of a private road at the rear of her home by workers building a new U. S. Route 40 down the west slope of the mountain.

Mrs. Schaffer named as defendants Harry G. Smith, who is job superintendent for the Central Pennsylvania Quarry, Striping and Construction Company of Hazleton, Pa., the road builder; and G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission.

Chief Judge George Henderson has signed an order giving the defendants 10 days to show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

On April 1, the State Roads Commission filed a condemnation suit against Mrs. Schaffer, her husband, Robert W. Schaffer; the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, mortgagee, and unknown owners of some 23.43 acres of land on Polish Mountain needed for the highway improvement. The SRC deposited a $37,200 check with Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court, representing the value it placed on the property sought by condemnation.

Mrs. Schaffer states in her bill of complaint that she has given the defendants permission to use a driveway along the front of her house. On or about April 11, the contractor began operating heavy construction vehicles over a driveway to the rear of the house, she says.

The complainant stated that she placed a rope across the driveway with a sign indicating that it was a private road but she charged that Smith removed the rope and has continued to use the road. She asserts this is dangerous because her eight-year-old daughter and five-year-old son and their pets have no safe place to play.

Navy Reserve Unit Cruises

Ten local and area Navy reservists, members of Surface Division 5-9, McKaig's Hill, and also students at Frostburg State Teachers College, are participating in their annual two weeks of training aboard a destroyer escort, the USS Hemminger.

This past weekend they spent a short leave at Jamaica in the British West Indies. The group expects to dock in Norfolk April 28. En route to the British West Indies by way of the Gulf route, the Reservists neared the coast of Florida at Key West. While aboard they are receiving experience in seamanship, gunnery and quartermaster training.

Taking the cruise are Yeoman 3/C William G. McCall, Seaman Joseph "Donnie" Madden and Thorner Deffenbaugh, all of Cumberland.

Yeoman 3/C Charles W. Smith and Francis C. Poland, Seaman Carl Emerick and Robert Hill, of Frostburg; Seaman Philip L. Ramsey, Cresapton, Seaman Edward W. Lennox, Mt. Savage and Seaman Joseph L. Carter, of Eckhart.

Church Census Scheduled By Ministerial Association

The South Cumberland Ministerial Association will conduct a church census on Sunday, May 5. South End has been subdivided into four areas, and approximately 250 members of the churches of the association expect to complete the census from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. on that day.

General chairman for the census is Albert Brant. Information sought in the census will be church affiliation of residents who have become inactive, and the census takers also hope to get unaffiliated members to join a church of their choice.

Captains and co-captains have been named for the sub-divisions: Area No. 1, south of Laing Avenue to the city limits, Virgil Bishop, captain; Area No. 2, Oldtown Road south to Laing Avenue, east including Mapleside, Charles McElfish, Gerald Barb and Brent Coleman, co-captains.

Area No. 3, Williams Street south to Oldtown Road, Paul Long and Devon Manges, co-captains; Area No. 4, Baltimore Avenue south to Williams Street and east to city limits, Dwight Proudfoot and Mrs. Charles Nield, co-captains.

Each census taker will wear an identification ribbon when calling on residents. Information will be compiled and turned over to the various churches according to affiliation by residents.

Police And Firemen's Dance Set Tomorrow

Tomorrow night the annual Police and Firemen's Ball will be held at Clarysville Inn with dancing from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m. Music for the semi-formal affair will be by the Midnighters.

Tickets are available from members of the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association, or may be purchased at the door.

Parole Withdrawn

William "Buck" Brant, city, was sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction yesterday afternoon by Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason. He was charged with being a habitual drunkard.

PTA Council Meets Monday

The Allegany County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will meet Monday at 8 p. m. at Parkside School in LaVale.

Mrs. Lawrence Shafferman, president, said plans for the next workshop and summer conference will be presented. A music feature will be a trombone musical selection by Fred Sammel, Charles Diell and Larry Shafferman.

Each local PTA president will make a report on accomplishments this year. Mrs. Shafferman has also requested that all local presidents attend the session a half-hour early to make recommendations for a slate of county officers and chairmen.

Also at 7:30 p. m. a meeting is scheduled by Harry Baker, council safety chairman, with all safety chairmen of the various units, for a safety conference.

Car Impounding Rumors Denied

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — New York's new compulsory automobile liability insurance law is giving many visiting motorists the jitters.

Widespread reports that out-of-state drivers are being warned to stay away, because their cars may be impounded if they are unable to produce evidence of liability insurance, has brought official denial from the New York motor vehicle commissioner.

Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly explained that visiting motorists are not required to prove financial responsibility, but may be

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Common Market

THE FREE economies of the world have been interdependent for a long time. But the changing circumstances of headlong growth seem to be pushing them now toward tighter combination, just as companies in America are being propelled toward more and more mergers. The developing European Economic Community, most often referred to as the "common market," is by all odds the most striking step taken in this direction. Linked with it, of course, is the European atomic energy pool. And now, from a highly responsible source, comes still another "merger" proposal.

WARREN PIERSON, chairman of Trans World Airlines and president of the International Chamber of Commerce, recommends an economic union of six Mediterranean countries—Italy, France, Spain, Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria. In his view such a union would not run counter but would blend with the common market setup. The primary goal would be joint economic development—improved agriculture, road construction, airport and harbor work, and similar master projects. Obviously, such a self-help program would take burden off the United States government's aid efforts, for Pierson believes private investment both here and in Europe should be encouraged to undertake projects in the area. The plan hasn't been presented yet to the governments concerned, but Pierson indicates it has had the most careful thought. If it worked out as proposed, it would eventually be linked with the European market union to make a still broader economic fabric.

NOT THE LEAST of the advantages which might flow from this Europe-Africa combination could be a demonstration to the nearby Middle East of what it means to work closely together in harmony with the West. If the Arab lands could see Western-led progress in spots like Tunisia and Algeria, with no hint of exploitation, then Arab-Western relations might take an important turn for the better. It is impossible to foresee at this stage what reaction Pierson's plan will receive in high European circles. Perhaps most noteworthy, however, is the simple fact that the idea has been proposed. Economic union among nations with relatively limited markets and resources appears increasingly to be a mark of the times.

FORTUNATELY this is a government in which the majority of officeholders stand for the people while a comparative few are the kind the people simply have to stand for.

Virtues And Violins

SINCE THIS IS the time when Congress seems strongly bent on finding cheaper ways to spread abroad the virtues of America, the lawmakers might attend to an event that occurred recently in Warsaw. Fundamentally, it wasn't anything too astonishing. It happened on the concert stage. Famed violinist Yehudi Menuhin for the first time in his career regaled a Polish audience with his fine playing. Long a legend to Polish music lovers, he captured their hearts at the outset by making room for standees on the orchestra platform behind him. Then he launched into a program that made absolutely no concession at all to their presumed musical interest—romantic Russian music. Both the audience and the press deluged Menuhin with applause and praise. They warmly welcomed, too, a young American conductor named Jonathan Sternberg. In the past the U. S. government has often financed tours of American orchestras or performers in the interest of showing the world our cultural riches. But Menuhin's appearance in Warsaw, so dramatically effective as U. S. propaganda, did not cost the American taxpayers a single penny. Congratulations to him and to Sternberg for both an artistic triumph and a notable service to the nation. Their examples could well be copied.

Which Faction Controls Eisenhower?

WASHINGTON—The question about whether Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey intends to resign and if so, how soon, has bobbed up again. It always excites great interest. The reason for that is the symbol that the Cleveland industrialist has become in the Eisenhower Administration.

He is looked upon by conservative interests as their representative and champion in the Administration, and that includes business and financial interests as well as the conservative wing of the Republican party, which is concentrated most heavily in the Middle West from where he comes.

His withdrawal from the Eisenhower Cabinet would be a blow to the conservatives. As long as Humphrey is in the inner councils and has the ear of the President, they feel they have a staunch spokesman for them and an antidote to the "modern Republicans," regarded by many conservatives as being little better than New Dealers.

EVERY RUMOR that the Secretary might get out soon sends nervous tremors through the conservative fraternity. Because conservatives have so much influence in Congress and in our economy, every such rumor receives far more publicity than if it were merely the matter of a member of the President's Cabinet resigning.

He has always been more than just another member of a Cabinet—for a large part of his party, that is.

However, the real truth is that, though he is highly regarded by President Eisenhower, his influence has constantly been counteracted by the "inner group" at the White House headed up by Sherman Adams, assistant to the President, especially in recent months. There has been a tug-of-war between Humphrey, on one side, and the White House group, on the other, for control of the President.

We saw this blaze up in the controversy about the budget. That gained unusual dramatic effect because of the indecision of the President about his own budget. This was the first time that Washington—and the nation—had heard a President publicly express doubts about his own budget recommendations.

IT IS important to recall the sequence of events. You will remember how Humphrey, in a news conference to explain the budget, expressed dissatisfaction because of its size.

Immediately thereafter, at a White House news conference, the President also was shaky about his budget, thought it might be cut, and said the cutting job was up to Congress. A few days later the President got back on the other side. He came out in favor of his budget again.

Since then he has generally been on his own side, though he did suggest the other day how some $1.8 billion in new spending could be eliminated. This was in reply to a House resolution asking him to specify where the budget might be cut. He stuck by the major programs, however, including those in the social welfare field.

So the White House group seems to have won out over Humphrey.

THE FORMER naturally have their sights on political effects and with such a consideration predominant, Humphrey was foredoomed to defeat. To the Adams group, it seems to be the best politics to provide for the Conservative Republicans, along with Democrats, now are digging up quotations from the President in the 1953 campaign to show how he has changed, at least so far as his public utterances reveal, in the four years since.

In 1952 he attacked the spending programs of Democrats in language which not even the most conservative Republican has exceeded. He promised to stop all that. Even before that—in 1949 it was—he also expressed adamant opposition in appropriating Federal funds for schools, speaking as president of Columbia University in a letter to a House committee.

But that was another day when he was talking like George Humphrey.

ONE IS THE general attitude and apathy of this session. Primary interest is in cutting the budget. There is no desire to do anything bold or constructive or different or new. And there is an apparent feeling that since the U. S. got along without an OTC before, it won't make any difference if there isn't one now.

A second reason is that there is some doubt as to what effects the creation of the new European Common Market will have on America's foreign trade and competition with Europe.

This is not a U. S. national election year, so the political factor in an OTC vote may not be so important. The political impact of a tariff vote isn't as important as it used to be, anyway.

POLLS ALL indicate that a majority of the voters—the consumers—are now in favor of lower tariffs and freer trade. But since the end of World War II it would be hard to find a congressional candidate who had been elected or defeated because of the stand he took on the trade agreement program.

What is important is the attitude of local businessmen who make the principal contributions to a congressional candidate's campaign funds. If these hometown manufacturers have even a faint suspicion that they are in competition with imports under low tariffs, that will decide how the congressman votes on all questions relating to the tariff.

If Congress takes no action on the OTC issue this year, the question is apt to be brought up again next year, along with a seventh renewal of the trade agreements act. And next year is a congressional election year.

What happens if the trade agreements act is not renewed and if the U. S. does not join OTC is open to argument. Trade agreements already negotiated would continue in effect until repealed by a six-months' notice. No new agreements could be made under the GATT procedure.

This might mean that, eventually, the 65,000 U. S. tariff rates now agreed to with 34 other countries would be returned to Congress for further determination.

If that happens, as one expert sees it, the Capitol corridors will run with blood of congressmen caught in the jam of rolling logs.

NEW YORK — Things must be slowing up in the night club and restaurant business of Manhattan. Five clubs and nine restaurants which never before have sent this reporter any publicity material concerning themselves are sending daily items.

WILL ANY ONE at all expecting any kind of mail from this corner please have patience for a few days?

A film producer came through town just before Easter and called to say: "I'm in a small jam. I'm on my way to Rome to shoot a picture and I'm exactly 30 pages short on the script and about 47 more pages short on anything that makes sense. Can you re-do the whole thing plus adding material to make up the lacking 30 pages in the next 11 days?"

Anybody who makes his living with a typewriter has a door sill low resistance quotient. The job has been taken on and between Good Friday morning and Easter night (with time off to review Liberty and watch the Perry Awards) 39 pages were accomplished. Only 81 to go by Saturday noon.

ON THE OTHER hand, some writers only have to have dandruff. A celebrated columnist-novelist who now makes his home in Spain, after sacking up $400,000 on his hit novel, was in town the other day and scratching his head.

"Don't know what to do," he said. "I came to New York to have some fun but some advertising people cornered me in a restaurant the other night and offered me $15,000 cash to tell about dandruff in 250 simple words."

I told him that for $1,000 of it he could get cured and the other $14,000 would be sheer gravy.

ALL THINGS finally get around to all people. A man came by the house last Saturday and said: "I think you could do with a 30-minute recess. Go on out there and drive my new car around the bay. It's got power steering and power brakes, so take it easy. Remember what happened when you punched the electric typewriter too hard?"

In 30 minutes I learned to lip-toe on the brakes instead of driving a tunnel through the floor boards. But that power steering!

For a man who has been driving exactly 41 years (in those days in South Carolina you were allowed to drive just before you got your first haircut) it came hard.

It was all right until a few cars ganged up and I twisted the wheel to avoid one — almost landed in the next county. After 30 minutes, it became somewhat easier and safer. And then, as a test, I tried to park this wheeled ocean liner with power-steering assist. Pure heaven, gents, pure heaven. Flip right, flip left—and alongside the curb as neat and pretty as a postage stamp.

If an amateur in the power-steering ranks can testify, this is it: Don't be without it.

But they still like to tell the story of the 65-year-old man who had driven 50 years and was held one day for drunken driving until they learned he was driving with power steering for the first time. It had him all over the road from side to side.

I CAN'T GET over one line from Lucy Herndon Crockett's book about Spain, "Kings Without Castles."

It goes: "Spain is a dream world, steeped in mysticism, locked in tradition, charged with violence, inhabited by the most delightful, the most courtly, the most gracious barbarians."

Except for that last word, it fits Mexico as well. Until exactly five years ago — 1952 — entry into more than one village by a stranger evoked gunfire and even murder. These were several little villages out and around from Ixmiquilpan in the Otomi country.

And only the other night the learned and lovely Margarita Madrid at dinner said: "You were too kind, too friendly, too impressed last summer. I remind you that there are still 'killer' villages in Mexico. You know it and I know it. Your Indian village was a kind village. But don't overlook the killer towns."

And for that matter, although Miss Crockett may flunk me for it, she herself deliberately consulted the "witches for hire" in the public market in Mexico City. The "brujas" do a daily business of advising the perplexed, hexing the hated and igniting the romantic, deeds for which Salem, in its time, had a more direct procedure.

But barbarians the Mexicans are not. And if they kill and shoot the stranger here and there in the remote areas, it is to be remembered they are living 400 years in the past.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—You meet at least one at every cocktail party.

I mean the pest, the man who suddenly wheels through the smoke fog, hails before you, thrusts his face to within an inch of your nose tip, and then, fixing you with his glittering eye, demands loudly: "Remember me?"

And I also mean the female of the species, the wandering lady gypsy moth who flutters up to everybody at the party, and makes a parlor game of cooing to each: "But you can't tell me my name."

What should a fellow who loves his fellow men in most circumstances do in this situation?

The chances are that he can't tell the strange man from John Foster Dulles. And who, confronted unexpectedly by a strange, Martin-burdened lady, can immediately recall her name, which is probably something like Ramona Schmiedelenglesser?

The unfair thing is it is the one questioned, not the questioner, who is put on the spot.

HE IS MADE TO LOOK like a premature victim of senile dementia as he stands there, helpless before his foghorn-voiced smiling accuser, stammering that immortal social line, "Uh, your face is familiar, but your name, I'm sorry to say, escapes me."

In your mind you are furiously saying, "Your name, you big dumb doll? Why if my mother sprang at me like that I couldn't name her unless she also started humming 'Rock-a-bye Baby.'"

So, publicly embarrassed, inwardly raging, you have to confess your ignorance until your persecutor reveals his or her identity and proclaims his forgiveness that you have forgotten it.

The kind of person who is always asking other people if they remember him is usually the kind they find easiest to forget.

THERE IS something that can be done in these situations if one will drop the spurious politeness one doesn't feel anyhow, and give a really honest answer.

You might reply: "Sure I remember you but, man, you've changed. What did it do to you—the war, your job, or your wife?"

Or, "I remember you like I do the measles—in a spotty way."

Or, "Your face is familiar, but weren't you wearing a number the last time I saw you?"

Or, "Sure, I remember you. You didn't fool me. Now take off your mask."

To the lady who wants to bet you can't recall her name, you simply murmur: "I'm afraid I can't be sure. But aren't you one of the Smith girls—the one who married the Abominable Snowman?"

Or, "Your name? Gee, Miss, it's your frame that really haunts me. It's come a long way since the old days, hasn't it? All things considered, I mean."

Or, laughing gaily, "Well, I must confess you had me for a minute, Mrs. Dracula. By the way, what is your first name?"

The pests you direct such answers to may be a bit taken aback. But the odds are the other long-suffering guests will break out in applause.

George Dixon
Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—When I came into the Senate dining room the other noon, Senator Chapman Revercomb, of West Virginia, was having lunch with a gold-brained admiral. The Admiral had the sniffles.

"The Admiral has a cold," volunteered Senator Revercomb. "Isn't that funny?"

"I suppose so," I conceded dubiously. "Although I must say I never considered a cold particularly sidesplitting."

"But, don't you see," cried Senator Revercomb, "this is Rear Admiral George J. Dufek! The head man of Operation Deepfreeze! He spent six months at the South Pole without a sign of a cold, but catches one the minute he gets back to Washington!"

"Nobody catches a cold at the South Pole—unless the cold germs are brought in from outside," said the doughty deepfreezer. "It's too cold there for cold germs to live. Newcomers from the civilized world bring in cold germs, but they—the germs—soon die."

THE 54-YEAR-OLD commander of our Antarctic task forces told me some fascinating details about our base at the South Pole. He said that, for a while, he feared that our right to set up an exclusive base at the South Pole was going to be challenged by the Russian Antarctic task forces.

"But," he went on, "the Russians proved to be gentlemen. Apparently cured of the Communist germ, they agreed to leave the geographical South Pole to us, and to set up two far-distant bases for themselves—one at the magnetic pole, the other at the pole of inaccessibility."

"What the devil's that?"

"It's a bit technical," replied Admiral Dufek. "But, oversimplified, it means the place hardest to get to by land."

"Then you scored quite a triumph over the Russians in grabbing off the exact South Pole?"

"That's what I thought at first. But there were times when I wished the Russians had forced us to go somewhere else."

"I guess it was the terrible cold?"

"No. It was the terrible heat!"

SENATOR Revercomb asked Admiral Dufek if he was jesting.

"Far from it!" declared the hero of the sub-continent. "The heat nearly ruined us. We had just gotten our air strip nicely smoothed out—we built it of ice—when we were hit by a heat wave. On Dec. 15—that's the Antarctic summer—the temperature suddenly shot from sub-zero to 54 above. The ice runway melted, the strip developed deep holes, and we were soon up to our—were soon deep in mud."

"We feared for a time that the heat might wreck our whole operation."

"But you were saved by a return of cold weather?"

"Yes! I know this sounds too pat, but at daybreak on Feb. 10 it froze again. That is my birthday. It was the most welcome birthday present I ever had."

Admiral Dufek said winter is now approaching down there and he's waiting to see how his outfit will weather it.

"This will be the first winter any human has ever spent at the South Pole," he said. "We don't know yet how low the temperatures will go. We estimate they may go as low as 100 to 120 below zero."

"Are the men looking forward to it?" asked Senator Revercomb.

"They actually are," declared Admiral Dufek. "In fact they've gotten up a pool on how low it will go. That's what you'd really call running a winter book!"

Secretaries Mark Week

Miss Helen Beck, in discussing National Secretaries Week being observed this week, stated "Being busy is nothing new for members of Algonquin Chapter, NSA, as members devote a great deal of time after 5 to civic projects."

One in particular, she said, is the Red Cross blood bank program. "Since undertaking this project in 1951, the women have given over 400 hours to it. Typing of these records has been in the evening, after members have completed an eight hour day in their respective office jobs."

During Secretaries Week the chapter will have special programs including a dance Saturday for the scholarship fund, and attendance at services Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church at 11 a.m.

The semi-formal dance will be at Clary Club with music from 9 until 12 by the Townsmen. Prizes are to be awarded during the evening.

Mrs. Anna Hartung and Mrs. Sara Lindsay are co-chairmen. Their committee includes Miss Patricia Golden, Mrs. May Richardson, Mrs. Virginia Athey, Mrs. Kathleen Heiker, Mrs. Anna Kuriz, Mrs. Pauline Grant and Miss Anna McGraw. Tickets may be obtained from members or at the door Saturday night. Table reservations are to be made with Mrs. Grant, PA 2-4359.

Mistake In Change Nets Plumber $100

DETROIT (AP)—A Flint, Mich., plumber told police his argument with a cab driver turned out better than he thought.
Floyd Wilmoth said he "did the town" and, after taking a cab home, was short-changed a dollar by the driver. Wilmoth protested to no avail.
But, said Wilmoth, a second look the next morning revealed that what the cabbie thought was a dollar bill in change actually was a $100 bill.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Bride of three months finds herself married to a jealous, brooding tyrant.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 23, my husband is 22 and we have been married three months. I was frank with Dick before marriage about being under a doctor's care, and wanting to wait until I am in better health to have children.

Also I said I would like to see my friends, go shopping and have them as guests once in a while. Dick said it was okay with him. Also I told him that if he wished to go out once a week or have his friends in, it would be okay with me.

Two weeks after we married, a childhood friend of mine called to ask us to dinner, and I invited her to drop in some evening with her husband.

But Dick informed me that we weren't going, and that he'd make them and me sorry if they came here; and that I wasn't to talk to her again on the phone. So when she called back, I made excuses which she saw through, and now she doesn't speak to me at all.

No Phone Talk When He's Home

Recently another friend and I went shopping one afternoon, and I got home 10 minutes later than Dick. He was in a rage and said I had to choose between him and the friend. From then on, I was to be home when he got in; also when he is home I'm not to talk to anyone on the phone, not even my brothers or sisters. So now if he's here when the phone rings for me, he tells them I'm out.

Right now I am sicker than ever. My doctor has told me to get lots of rest and see him twice a week, and advises against early pregnancy, as Dick knows. Still Dick says he's not going to pay any more doctor bills, yet he insists on my having a child. And he thinks I should keep the house spic-and-span and do all the weekly laundry in one day's time, which I can't.

If I disagree with him on anything, he says he is going to kill himself, so now I do just as he wants. Also he has been hitting me in the face if I disagree with him. I feel like a slave and can't go on this way. But what can I do? Please advise. —A. B.

Does The Problem Come As Surprise?

DEAR A. B.: Your long letter, here condensed, makes clear that you carefully tried to educate Dick, before marriage, to your ideas of mutual fair play in double harness. And he seemed to agree; at least, he gave no argument.

It is only since marriage that he shows himself to be a sick-minded sort of petty tyrant, in the role of husband—who figuratively chains you to the door post. It occurs to me, as I study the implications of the story, that you knew intuitively before marriage that he was a bad risk and a poor bargain—and that's why you were trying to "teach" him rules of good behavior in advance. And I gather he let your hopeful talk go in one ear and out the other, while cynically biding his time to "tell you off" later.

As of now, Dick's threats to kill himself, during disagreements, are symptomatic of the same morbidly of mind that drives him to jealously cut you off from family, friends and all other such normal sociability.

He is emotionally sick with chronic rage, inferiority feelings, self-pity and, more recently, with a sense of guilty anxiety about his mistreatment of you, I suppose.

Makes No Sense To Tolerate This

Since he didn't dispute your exploratory ideas, when you were trying to establish a prior "working agreement" about marriage, he lured you into the partnership under false pretenses, actually. And his present brutal browbeating attitude is a serious menace to your health, it seems—judging by the doctor's concern and your latterday "sicker" state. So it's possible that you have legitimate cause to obtain release from the destructive alliance.

In my opinion, it is a form of suicide to drift from bad to worse in the situation, as you've been doing. Thus my advice is to get first-hand professional help at once, to determine how to proceed, to save yourself.

The Family Service Agency in your city is an appropriate source of help; or, if there is a Legal Aid Bureau, it befriends needy persons also.

SEC said the suspension order, including all over-the-counter deal-

Man Prefers Prison Sentence To Freedom

PEORIA, Ill. (A) — John Edward Robbins had a choice—freedom or prison. He chose prison.

Pleading guilty to a charge of transporting a stolen car across state lines, he was before Judge J. Leroy Adair who asked Robbins if he believed he could adhere to probation requirements.

Robbins, of Marshalltown, Iowa, said he didn't think so.

Judge Adair sentenced him to two years in prison.

Teachers Reprimanded For Being Too Noisy

COLUMBIA, S. C. (A) — There may have been a few red faces amongst teachers at Columbia High School recently.

At the height of a teachers' meeting, the principal was forced to reprimand the group for being too noisy.

Edison-Marconi Colleague Dies At 96

BALTIMORE (A) — Funeral services were held today for Ralph H. Beach, inventor, manufacturer and colleague of two great men in the nation's history—Edison and Marconi.

Beach was found dead in bed yesterday by his wife, Martha. He was 96.

Beach, who made and lost several fortunes, worked with a group of men that eventually formed the General Electric Co. His first invention, a railway coupling, won top honors at an international railway exhibit at Darlington, England.

He sold the first electric railway engine ever used by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, helped develop an arc light in Detroit, 1939.

Beach's only formal education was night school he attended while a blacksmith. He retired to his native Michigan in the 1920s, near Ann Arbor, was wiped out in the depression, and came to Rosedale, Md., to resume his inventions in 1939.

Carrier Leyte May Come To Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—The USO GI Pal Dinner may yet be held aboard the aircraft carrier Leyte. The Navy Department said yesterday two alternatives have been offered the Baltimore USO unit: Hold the party aboard the Leyte at an anchorage off Annapolis or send a smaller type ship to Baltimore for the dinner. Original plans were to bring the carrier to Baltimore and hold the dinner on the ship's flight deck. But it was discovered the carrier would not clear the Chesapeake Bay Bridge. The Navy said Tuesday it canceled the plans because of the expense involved in dismantling the Leyte's radar and radio antenna Company into membership.

Businessmen Keep Watch For Possible Turn Toward

Tingle sees more conservatism in buying.

He said he looks for the economic situation to remain about the same through the rest of 1957. "That's the way they (the Eisenhower administration) want it," he said. "It will check inflation."

But there will be no depression, he said. "We can't go back to where we were at one time. People are too cheerful now. They don't have the gloomy outlook that prevailed in the last depression," Tingle said.

It is the farmer in Tingle's area sniffing the air for signs of depression.

Farm Bureau Manager Wallace Walker said rising costs and the same or lower prices for their products have farmers worse off than in a number of years.

"Last year was rough," he said. "And this year is going to be rougher." A late spring is in the offing which may cause farmers to start right in with their summer crops, he said. This could cause overproduction.

"The administration is attempting to stave off a depression," said Walker, "but it may come anyway. If it does it will be a doggone good one."

But in other areas—Cumberland, Baltimore, and Cambridge—farm spokesmen say that while parity has taken a slight turn for the worse, the farmer isn't much worse off than last year. And one agent said last year was a fair year.

In Cambridge, Assistant County Agent Robert Jones said farmers "are like the new bride—they don't know whether to laugh or cry." He sees them as pretty cautious in a stabilizing period.

The farmer and the small businessman seem to be in the same boat.

Mrs. Florence Schroeder, secretary-treasurer of the Grocers Association in Cambridge, said there has been a slow, "almost sneaky," increase in prices lately. The increases have come too slow for the independent merchant to pass them along to the customer, she said, while the big chain buyer can absorb them in his quantity purchasing.

"It's harder for a small businessman to survive this year," she said. She sees a battle between small and big business with the independent retailer too busy tending to his own business to fight for his interests.

Morgan, the Salisbury chamber president, said small businesses are tending to merge into big businesses or die. Big businesses can operate cheaper, he said.

"It used to be that a small businessman could cut a few corners and operate cheaper, but it just isn't that way anymore," said Morgan.

The story was the same in the big metropolitan areas—the small businessman struggling to meet the competition from the big department stores and the chain stores.

The only big businessman who appears to be in trouble is the mass home builder. Construction of individual homes in the metropolitan areas has fallen off as much as 25 per cent.

The builders say they are being hurt by financing restrictions, but return to "loose money" could put them back in business.

Ellsworth Roulette, a Hagerstown banker, is unsympathetic with "tight money" talk. "We do not have a tight money situation here," he said. "Such reports are largely a myth. There is plenty of money for all legitimate uses."

And a representative Cumberland banker said no one deserving of credit or who has the ability to pay is turned down. Loans in Cumberland for the first three months of 1957 are up $497,000 over 1956, he said.

Banker Tingle of Salisbury went so far as to say that money has been a little tighter in the last year, but that it has had a stabilizing effect on general business.

He said just as many people are asking for loans, but fewer are getting them and the big reason is that they haven't got a down payment for what they wish to buy.

Bankers in the Washington area say the peak in interest rates on loans has been reached. They see a "sideways level" for the balance of the year.

No one in the banking business sees any change in lending policies before year's end.

Four members of the club attended the Charter Night program of the new Leesburg, Va., club Tuesday. They were William H. Johnson, president, Charles H. Helmich, Albert D. Darby Jr., and William J. Edwards.

DILLWYN, Va. (AP)—Yeggs who robbed a safe may attract some attention if they try to dispose of the loot. The haul included a set of Cuban coins, several United States 2-cent pieces, some nickels thicker than those in use today, a number of large U. Sears Store Damaged In Early Blaze

Normal Business
Resumed At Noon;
Police Discover Fire

A four-alarm blaze broke out early this morning in the Sears Roebuck and Company store on Baltimore Street, causing extensive damage to merchandise and slight damage to the three-story brick structure. No estimate of loss was made.

Employees of the store spent the morning cleaning up the debris in preparation to resume normal business.

C. W. Seasholtz, store manager, said business resumed at noon, and that the store will be open tonight from 7 until 9 o'clock as planned for its advertised sale. The store will be closed from 5 until 7 p. m., Seasholtz said.

Police Sound Alarm
The four-alarm blaze was discovered by City Police who turned in the first alarm to Central Station at 5:48 a. m.

Central, along with the 85-foot hook and ladder, was dispatched to the scene, and was joined at 5:51 a. m. by West Side Firemen from East Side arrived at 5:52 a. m., while South End Company was summoned at 5:57 a. m.

Firemen from South End and West Side battled the blaze which was confined to the third floor, from the rear of the building and the roof, which Central and East Side firemen worked the front, right side and roof.

Small crowds of workers, going to and from work around 7 a. m., gathered on the sidewalk as firemen worked in an effort to keep down the amount of damage.

After arriving on the scene firemen ventilated the brick structure by knocking out two large windows in the front, a few small windows on the side, two sky lights, and by cutting a small hole in the roof.

The 85-foot ladder was used in battling the fire from the front, while Central's 50-foot extension ladder was placed into service on the side of the building.

Water Loss Kept Down
An outstanding job of draining the building was credited to the firemen, and resulted in a huge savings to the store. The fire fighters cut a small hole in the third floor, another small hole in the second floor and constructed a "funnel" out of tarpaulins to flush the water out the front door.

The "tarpaulin funnel" saved the store from suffering water damage on the first and second floors.

Store officials were unable to make an estimate of the damage, and firemen were not certain of the cause of the blaze.

The fire started in an area used for storing paints and painting materials.

The third floor of the building is used largely for storage, but also houses a business office, service department and recreation room for the employees.

Blaze Confined
J. M. West, assistant manager, said the merchandise damaged in the blaze included a large amount of luggage, light fixtures, a small number of electrical appliances, summer hardware such as hoses and garden tools, small table radios, houseware and paint.

The fire was also confined to the front section of the third floor and failed to damage a number of television sets which are stored in the rear of the floor.

The fire fighting was directed by Chief Virgil Parker, who returned after the blaze was under control to determine the cause.

Firemen from Central stayed on the scene until 8:30 a. m.

Three lines pumped water into the structure. No injuries were reported, firemen said.

City police rerouted traffic on George Street and Henderson Avenue while the firemen were battling the blaze.

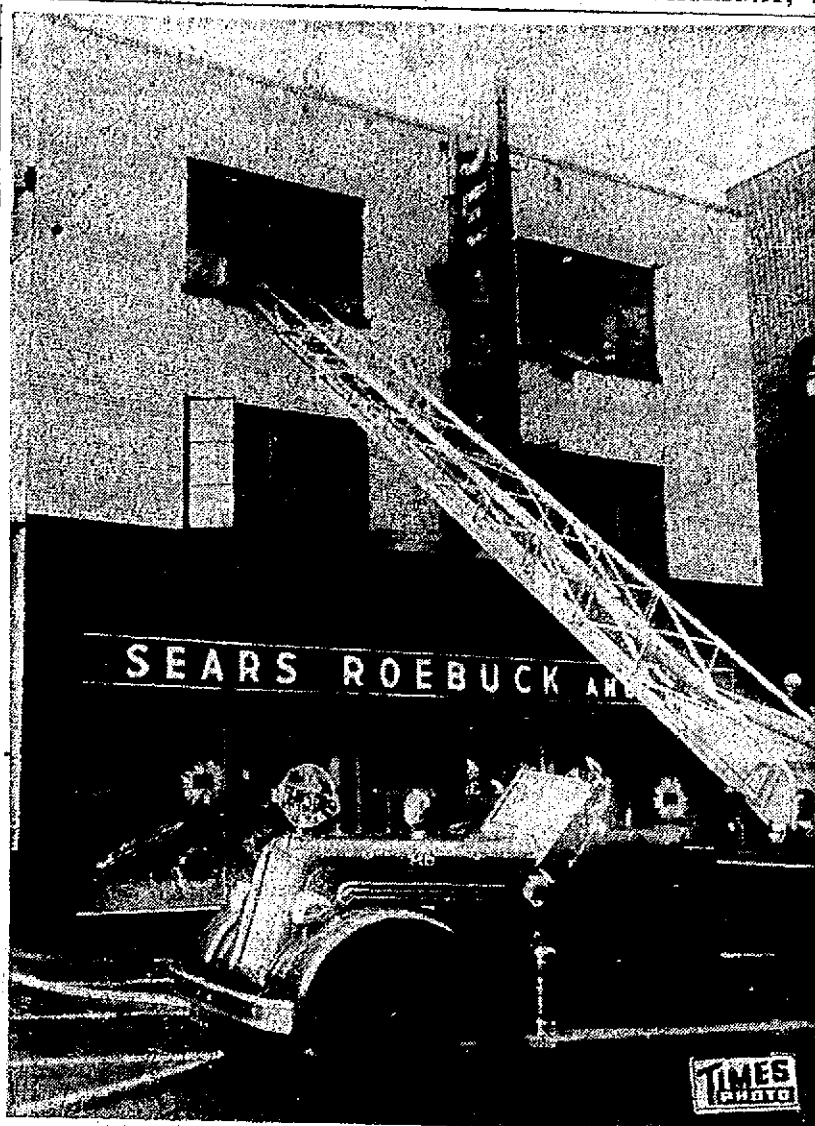

EASTER SEAL LUCKY BUCKS NEEDED NOW

The next 138 bucks mailed for Easter Seals will be lucky for crippled children in Allegheny county because that's the number of dollars needed to make the 1957 seal campaign total $8,000.

Over 23,000 residents of Allegheny county received Easter Seals in the mail a month ago, and a check yesterday showed $7,862 had been received in returns at headquarters.

Much more than $8,000 is needed, however, to finance treatment of crippled children in this section, and it is hoped that at least $10,000 will be received this year.

Don't hold back if you have not yet mailed your money for the seals. It's possible that the buck you haven't returned is the dollar that will be needed to reach this year's goal.

FIREMEN BATTLE BLAZE—Firemen from four companies early this morning battled a blaze at the Sears Roebuck Store on Baltimore Street. Central Station's 85-foot hook and ladder was used in the front of the building to pump water into the third floor where the blaze started. Extensive damage was caused to merchandise in the store.

Officials See Thruway Plan For District

Proposed plans for parts of the Cumberland Thruway to be presented to the State Roads Commission soon were shown yesterday to city officials.

Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, said the approaches to the thruway in the downtown section have been changed from the original plans.

For instance, he noted, traffic leaving the thruway will use George and South Centre street ramps, and vehicles entering will go on the South Mechanic and South Liberty street ramps.

Previously, the proposal had been for both off and on traffic at both South Mechanic and South Centre Street approaches.

He explained approaches have been added to the original plan.

Marshall McCord and Robert Cazan of Green Associates, the Baltimore engineering firm hired to design part of the thruway, said they will present their ideas to the chief engineer of the State Roads Commission.

In the event, the SRC likes Green Associates' idea, they will put down on paper their design, the two engineers said.

Studies of the Industrial Boulevard which will connect the modern facility with Route 51 were also included.

Also held during yesterday's conference was a general discussion on means to carry traffic in and out of the site of the city's third housing project.

Officials said the plans discussed yesterday made no change toward eliminating a conflict which has developed at the housing project site.

The approach to the thruway, under plans revised after property was purchased would overlap one 20-family dwelling unit in the area bounded by Oldtown Road, Thomas Street, Cressap Street and Hemlock Alley.

Craft Unions Meet Tonight On Contracts

Three Of 10 Unions
Have Not Completed
Talks On Wage Pacts

The Allegheny Building Trades Council will hold a meeting today at 8 p. m. in the Labor Temple for a report on wage negotiations with area contractors and subcontractors.

Harry Hinkle, council president, said each of the 13 crafts in the council is negotiating its own contract with the contractors.

He said it is understood 90 percent of the unions have completed their talks.

However, he added that it is imperative that the council know those unions that will not have completed their negotiations by May 1, which has been set as the deadline for all crafts.

Hinkle said that among those effecting new agreements with contractors are Local 568, Iron Workers Union; Local 616, Bricklayers Union; Local 616, Laborers and Hodcarriers Union; and Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union.

Among those still not completed are Local 307, Electricians Union; Local 489, Steamfitters and Plumbers Union, and Local 37-B, Operating Engineers.

Charles Cross, business agent of the Steamfitters and Plumbers, has called a special meeting of his union, tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the Labor Temple for discussion of wages.

500 Entries Expected In Bridge Event

The seventh annual Western Maryland sectional tournament, sponsored by the Western Maryland Bridge Association will be held tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday at the Cumberland County Club, and Albert D. Heacock, president, said the event is expected to be the "biggest and best" yet.

An estimated 500 entries are expected to play in the tournament, Heacock said; adding that reservations have already been received from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Baltimore, Altoona, Washington, Uniontown, Greensburg, Johnstown and New Haven, Conn.

The tournament director will be Jerome Machlin, of Washington, considered to be one of the top directors of the American Contract Bridge League, while George Bortoff, of this city, will assist Machlin.

More than 20 life masters, with a total of more than 300 master points, will play in the tournament this weekend, and Heacock pointed out that four of the six defending champions are members of the sponsoring organization.

The defending champions are Dr. and Mrs. Paul Castello, of the host club, master pairs; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lusby, non-master's pairs; Mrs. Frederick Puderbaugh and Mrs. Pauline Knepp, both of the host club, women's pairs; J. B. Paddelford and Dr. Castello, of the host club, men's pairs; and S. Russ Minter and H. G. Shores, host club, open pairs. Mrs. J. O. Funkhouser, Hagerstown, and the late Dr. L. R. Meyers won the mixed pairs last year.

Tournament play will open Friday at 8 p. m. when the master and non-master pair events are scheduled. Saturday's sessions will be the women's pair and men's pair events for 2 p. m., with the mixed pair event called for 8 p. m.

The open pair event will be held in two sessions Sunday, at 1:30 and 7:30 p. m., while the special pair event is also scheduled for 7:30 p. m. that day.

The sponsoring organization will provide trophies for the master and non-master pair events, while the Cumberland Duplicate (Continued on Page 26)

Count Shows Many Petition Signers Not Registered

Bond-Referendum Request Would Appear To Have Slim Chance Of Getting Approval

Chances of holding a referendum on a proposed $500,000 bond issue appeared slim today when it was disclosed that 1,414 signatures on the petition calling for the referendum would automatically be dropped from consideration.

Validation of the signatures on the petitions was completed this morning, and City Hall sources said 1,253 persons had signed for the referendum when they were not on the city registration list. In addition to that number, 161 duplications were found.

The City Registration Office said the petitions carried 4,015 names, 20 more than the 3,995 claimed by its backers. Thus, the number of voters who signed the petitions, less the duplications and those not registered, number 2,601, while the number of names necessary to force the referendum is 2,543.

Hairline Decision
The initial phase of the petition check disclosed that 1,324 signers were qualified voters. The remainder have been separated into various classifications, and even should most of these be approved the final outcome will be a hairline decision.

The breakdown has been presented to Mayor Roy W. Eves, who said City Attorney Thomas B. Finan will make a ruling on the procedures to be used in each group.

Meanwhile, Finan said he wished to emphasize that the instructions issued to the City Clerk for counting of names on the petition requesting a referendum on the $500,000 bond issue were established for the purpose of separating the names into various categories, adding:

"If the counting is to proceed in any orderly fashion there must be some suggested guide to go by. First of all, there are those signatures and addresses which accurately correspond with records in the Registration Office."

"Next we have names and addresses which for a multiple of reasons do not conform with the way the person's name and address purports to appear on the petition as contrasted with the registration books."

Fair And Impartial
"These latter have been separated into separate categories for further consideration in order to ascertain if the variance in the names and addresses is fatal."

"There has been no statement, so far as I know, as to any final decision regarding such names, and any statement that there has been is completely erroneous and contrary to fact."

"I can assure every one that a threat to take the city into court unless we agree to throw discretion to the winds in the counting of these names will not deter the city from endeavoring to be as fair and impartial as possible."

Mayor Eves said that the various classifications are but statistics, and that no decision will be made until the city secures proper legal authority on procedures.

Regardless of whether the referendum is approved or not, the mayor said the correct procedures must be followed so a basis can be established for any future petitions.

Mayor Eves also said that the city must only assure itself of the validity of the signatures, in comparison to the last petition calling for statutory home rule when the names of contested signers had to be published.

Rain Hails Work In Walls Creek Bed
The rain that fell since yesterday caused Walls Creek to rise, and halt some work on the channel phases of the flood protection project.

Cumberland had .65 inch of rainfall with scattered thunder showers predicted today. Tomorrow and Saturday is to be warm and humid with more numerous thundershowers.

Washington To Get Flood Complaints

Ridgeley Views To Be Aired At Meeting
Set For Wednesday

The Town of Ridgeley is taking its Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project complaints to Washington.

Mayor Charles Fryer said today that he will confer with Col. George Sumner, district engineer for the Washington District of the Corps of Army Engineers, and Rep. Harley O. Staggers (D-2nd W. Va.).

The meeting is scheduled in Rep. Staggers' office at 10:30 a. m. next Wednesday.

Want Streets Repaired
Fryer said one of the complaints is that repairs are needed on the town's main streets that have been affected by the project.

He also will ask the closing of the opening in the East Ridgeley levee at relocated Potomac Street.

The Ridgeley mayor also contended that there is improper drainage on the East Ridgeley levee.

Staggers and Col. Sumner will also be asked to see if they can have the approach blacktopped to the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company property in Ridgeley.

Approach Changed
The old approach, changed because of flood project work, had been paved, he added. The unpaved one causes the trucks to leave much dirt and mud on Ridgeley Streets, Fryer declared.

The fifth item to be placed before the two officials will concern the sewers built for the flood project. Fryer said the main complaint concerns rats and odors.

Officials of the Town of Ridgeley have had previous discussions on these complaints with Cumberland representatives.

SRC Dockets Land Action

The State Roads Commission today docketed a condemnation suit against The Market Buildings, Inc., and Richard B. Young and Alford E. Young, his wife, in connection with a tract of land needed for a highway improvement project.

Papers in the case, state that the land needed is located between Braddock Road and Braddock Run. The Youngs are listed in the suit because a small piece of the tract located in the vicinity of the exit from Crystal Drive in Theater to Braddock Road.

The Youngs lease this portion of ground as part of the drive-in theater operation. A check for $9,500 has been deposited with Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph E. Roden by the SRC for the value of the land the state wishes to obtain.

The tract will be used as part of the west approach to the Cumberland Thruway from U. S. Route 40. The highway will be a controlled access arterial roadway.

United Fund

Tucker School Enrollment Shows Decline In 30 Years

PARSONS — John R. Yeager, president of the Tucker County Board of Education, said that in looking over old school records he had learned that the enrollment in Tucker County schools had dropped almost 50 per cent in the past 30 years.

A total of 3,773 students were enrolled in Tucker County schools during the 1927-28 school year compared to only 2,013 enrolled during the 1956-57 term, or a drop of 1,760 students.

One hundred and 58 teachers were employed by the school system at that time while today only 93 teachers are employed, a decrease of 65. During the 1927-28 school term there were 70 schools in operation in the county while today there are only 29 or a decrease of 41.

Most of the schools which were closed were one room rural institutions which have been closed because of loss in enrollment.

Bridge Will Be Erected

PIEDMONT — Erection of a private temporary bridge to provide access to a concrete batch plant on land west of Piedmont High School is expected to get underway in about 10 days as the construction program at the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

The bridge will be located between Luke and Piedmont and will connect the hatch plant built by Tidewater-Hazlewood in the mill's expansion project with Cromwell Street in Luke.

Test piling is being driven now to determine the extent of piling that will be necessary to support the bridge. About six weeks will be required to build, once construction gets underway.

Babies Enjoy Mealtime Best

ONE-YEAR-OLD TWINS take pot luck and zero in with their new spoons.

You seem to enjoy these specialties combining meat and vegetables. Do they give you the illusion that you are eating one of those casseroles your Mom is always dreaming up for the grown folks who come to her buffet suppers?

And speaking of parties, your mother may want to celebrate when it's time for her to put one candle on your birthday cake. You don't like crowds, so she'll probably invite a friend with a baby who was born about the same time you were. While the mothers are having cake and coffee, you and your friend can lap up your favorite junior fruits—served in paper dessert dishes with plastic spoons.

The party will probably take place in your play pen and it won't last too long. By some great good fortune, maybe your mother and her friend can get you and your friend to take a nap while they hash over the fascinating things you both did yesterday.

Maple Sponge Has Custard Sauce

Here's how to make Maple Sponge with custard sauce, to serve 6 to 8:

Soak one tablespoon gelatin in 1/2 cup cold water. Boil 1 1/2 cups brown sugar in one cup boiling water for ten minutes. Pour slowly over soaked gelatin. Cool until nearly set. Beat three egg whites until stiff, add a pinch of salt and fold into gelatin mixture. Then fold into the above with custard sauce made with the three egg yolks.

Custard Sauce—Stir three tablespoons sugar into the three egg yolks in the top of a double boiler. Add a dash of salt and a cup of milk. Cook over simmering (not boiling) water, stirring constantly. When custard coats silver spoon (thin coating), remove from heat. If custard should start to curdle remove from heat and beat vigorously with rotary beater until smooth. Cool. This sauce thickens as it cools.

Remove yeast rolls and bread from pans as soon as they come from the oven and place on cooling racks.

Continental Fish Sauce

Crush 2 small cloves of garlic in 1/2 tsp. of Sterling Salt. Combine with 1/2 tsp. curry powder, 1/2 tsp. lemon juice, and 1 tsp. of Worcestershire Sauce. Then add plain mayonnaise until desired amount of sauce is made.

You add extra zest and sparkle to any dish with Sterling Salt's pure, snow-white "sparkle of flavor." Plain or Iodized. Damp proof.

Picnic Special For Spring's First Fling

Even before dad gets out the charcoal grill for backyard fun, the youngsters are off to the woods or park to inhale a brand new season of outdoor eating.

The occasion calls for Vienna Submarines — big juicy sandwiches just right for hungry teenagers. Split loaves of crusty French bread and fill with cheese and Vienna sausages; send along tomatoes to slice and slip inside before eating. Crunchy raw salad foods, a jar or can of pickled beets, and bananas or an in-season melon for dessert make the picnic-packed easy and the serving simple. For an extra treat, fill the thermos with well chilled tomato juice.

VIENNA SUBMARINES
1 package brown 'n serve
French bread loaves
1/4 cup catsup
1/2 cup mayonnaise
6 slices American cheese
1 can (4 oz.) Vienna sausage

Best Buys This Week In Pork And Poultry

By The Associated Press

Housewives shopping around for bargains at meat counters this week will find good buys in pork and poultry.

Those meat items are most frequently featured by the big food chains this week-end.

Chickens ready for frying or broiling are probably the outstanding buy. Price cuts from last week range from 2 cents a pound in some areas to as much as 10 cents, and Long Whites from Idaho are priced in many cities, and you'll find an occasional special in leg.

Beef prices continue to inch higher. Market specialists say most cuts of beef are expected to go up a little more in price in the next few weeks and then hold steady for a month or two. No immediate downturn is in sight. By and large, prices of the cheaper cuts are going up faster than those of the choicer grades.

Sirloin steak is up a penny or two a pound from last week in some cities; rib roast is up anywhere from two to six cents a pound. Lamb prices are pretty close to last week's levels.

Butter prices are up a shade; egg prices generally a little lower. Fresh vegetables of many kinds are in plentiful supply. You'll find a wide assortment of bargains to choose from in salad greens and other vegetables of the "leafy" type—iceberg and romaine lettuce.

from the Southwest; new green cabbage from Georgia and Florida; spinach, kale, broccoli and turnip tops from North Carolina and Virginia.

Potatoes are listed as excellent buys in many parts of the country. Maine potatoes are classed as "outstanding" bargains by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, while White Sebago and Red Bliss potatoes from Florida and Idussets, and Long Whites from Idaho are described as offering good value. For choicer palates, there's asparagus from California and New Jersey and sweet potatoes and yams from North Carolina and Louisiana.

Citrus fruits are still plentiful, but some—notably tangerines and Temple oranges—vary greatly in quality and should be chosen with care. Good buys include grapefruit and Valencia oranges from Florida, and navel oranges and lemons from California.

Several varieties of apples are moderately priced, including Macintosh apples from Massachusetts, Vermont and New York, Winesaps from Washington state, and Arkansas Blacks.

Florida limes, a popular ingredient of warm weather drinks, are in ample supply and moderately priced in most major cities.

Creaming tuna fish? You may use the oil in the can as part or all of the fat called for in the sauce recipe.

Creamed Chipped Beef

Creamed chipped beef has new interest with husky wedges of ripe olives, slices of hard-cooked egg and a pinch of dried herbs stirred into the mixture. Serve over toast squares.

Have short ribs cut from the end of a standing rib roast for an extra meal. Brown the ribs and then braise with a lot of sliced onions and as little water as possible.

What You Should Know About Cancer—4

This is the fourth of six articles providing the facts on cancer detection and treatment for a sane, sensible and life-saving approach to the problems of that disease.

By DAVID A. WOOD, M.D.
President of the American Cancer Society

Men are not as health-conscious as women. This may explain why women have a longer life span than men.

It certainly has great bearing on the fact that more men now die of cancer than women.

To begin with most men are "allergic" to seeing a doctor without the spur of a definite and discomforting ailment. And too often they are so absorbed in economic survival, they fail to heed the danger signals of cancer, that great enemy to survival. Of course it does not help that the first warning signs of cancer seem so trivial, indistinguishable from a host of minor complaints that we can safely ignore or regard lightly.

The burden of family health falls naturally upon the shoulders of women, for saving life is not unrelated to giving life. So it is up to women to safeguard their husbands' lives against the hazard of cancer.

This is one time when it is a virtue for a woman to nag her husband. They can make that nagging quietly palatable and effective by producing a few hard facts:

Here they are:

Out of every hundred cancer deaths 52 are men and 48 are women. This lack of balance has been true since 1919. There has been a steady decline in the cancer death rate for women, and parallel with it, a steady rise in the cancer deaths of men.

In other words cancer can no longer be dismissed as "a woman's disease." This erroneous label dates back to a time when the incidence of uterine and breast cancer was also the measure of fatality. To cancer seem so trivial, indistinguishable from a host of minor complaints that we can safely ignore or regard lightly.

are dying of cancer is only one reason why the death rate is higher among men.

More men are dying of cancer because more men are getting the disease. Notably cancer of the lung. This is a disease chiefly of males; ten men are affected for every woman. Last year some 24,500 men died of lung cancer—about six times as many as 20 years ago.

A number of scientific studies indicate a link between lung cancer and cigarettes. The exact casual relationship has not yet been determined but findings indicate that a man who has smoked two packs a day for many years has about a 1-in-10 chance of developing lung cancer. The odds are 1 in 38 for less than a pack a day, and 1 in 270 for non-smokers. Pipe and cigar smoking seem to have little relationship with lung cancer.

As guardian of your husband's health, you should know something about this very common form of cancer in men.

The usual first symptom is a cough. And how many people have coughs more or less constantly? Yet the fact remains that any cough that persists undiminished for more than two or three weeks deserves respect and exploration. Even if it can be proved to be due to other causes, a chronic cough is a state of irritation which may well be a predisposing factor to cancer; it should therefore be eliminated.

A faint wheezing is another fairly early sign of lung cancer. Somewhat later, chest pain usually appears, and sometimes infection develops, accompanied by fever and night sweats.

Other types of cancer in men include: Cancer of the stomach, bowels and rectum; larynx; skin, lip and mouth; and prostate gland.

Memorize the seven danger signals of cancer. They are by no means sure signs of cancer; so women should not get into a panic if their husbands develop a symptom. Just nag him into an immediate visit to the doctor.

But the finest piece of nagging women can do is to induce their husbands to have a regular checkup. If a date is fixed in his birthday week, it will help to remember it from year to year.

Here are some persuasive and pleasant facts women can use: One-half of all cancers can be cured if the cancer is discovered in time. Hidden cancer can be discovered in time—if men make a habit of regular checkups.

About 150,000 Americans are being saved from cancer every year; and that is 30,000 more yearly than were saved ten years ago. Or to put it more dramatically: In 1936 one in every three cancer patients was saved; in 1946 the ratio was only one in four.

So nag your husband—it may save his life!

Next: What parents should know about cancer in children.

The average score of the typical bowler is 134.

Texas Swifties Out To Crack Relay Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Texas Longhorns, bent on winning three relay titles at Friday and Saturday's Penn Relays, are in town a day early to warm up.

The Texans last invaded Franklin Field 21 years ago and established a Carnival record in the quarter-mile relay which this year's quartet plans to lower. The 440 Carnival record of 0:41.1 is the oldest mark on the Penn Relays books.

Sees Chance For Sweep
Coach Clyde Littlefield, who is refereeing this 63rd annual Penn Track and Field Show, will send teams after the 440, 880 and mile relay crowns, and to say he has a chance of winning all three is no exaggeration.

Wally Wilson, Ed Southern, Hollis Gaines and Bobby Whitlow will carry the baton for the Longhorns in both the quarter and half mile events in which this foursome already has lowered the existing world records. At the Kansas Relays last week, the quartet was clocked in 0:39.9 for the quarter, and in the recent Texas Relays ran the half in 1:22.7.

Clash With Villanova
The Texans appear safe in the 440 and 880, but the mile should be a humdinger as the Long Star State runners clash with Villanova University's defending champions. Texas has recorded a 3:12.8 this year and will be shooting at Villanova's 1956 Carnival record of 3:11.9.

Running for Coach Littlefield will be Jimmy Holt, Lavern Voight, Ed Southern and Wilson. Coach Jumbo Elliott plans to use Ed Collamore, Charley Stead, Ron Delany and Charley Jenkins for Villanova.

Golfer Jimmy Denaret became a professional at 13 years of age.

Player Of Day

Mantle 'Pops' Gum, Homer Downs Birds

By International News Service

Mickey Charles Mantle is a highly emotional ballplayer who kicks water coolers when he's angry and blows bubble gum when he's happy.

People who talk with the shy and soft-spoken New York Yankee outfielder for the first time often come away with the impression that he is an easy-going, indifferent sort of athlete.

Nothing could be further from the truth. When the heavily-muscled major league home run king puts on his uniform and takes the field, he is pure determination and he wants nothing more than to play well personally and to help his team win.

When things don't turn out well, water coolers and locker doors feel his rage. But on good days—such as yesterday when his homer gave the Yanks a 3-to-2 win—he pops bubbles with his chewing gum while rounding the bases.

The 5-11, 198 pound switch-hitter was born October 20, 1931, in Spavina, Okla., but now calls Commerce, Okla., his home.

He started in the minors in 1949 when he was 17 years old. By the spring of 1951 he was the sensation of the Yankees training camp and was promoted to the varsity.

His long-distance jolts have amazed baseball fans since then. He had a total of 173 big league homers before this season began, and many baseball experts believe he will someday break Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers in one season.

LITTLE SPORT

Kell 28 Shy 2,000th Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—Day by day George Kell climbs steadily toward his lifetime goal of 2,000 hits in a brilliant American League career. At the latest count he was 28 hits short.

"It will mean a lot to me," said the veteran Baltimore infielder, who alternates between first base and his old third base job this spring. "Last winter I thought about retiring to the farm (in Swift, Ark.) but I decided to give it one more whirl at least to get those 2,000 hits. They tell me I'll be the 100th player to do it, if I get that far."

Although Kell at 33 hasn't long to go in the majors, he is a cinch to hit the 2,000-mark within a month. Three yesterday brought his total to 1,972.

Manager Paul Richards had Kell back on third yesterday, playing Bob Boyd at first against a right-handed pitcher. However, he has played a first great deal to give Richards a good look at Brooks Robinson, his rookie third baseman.

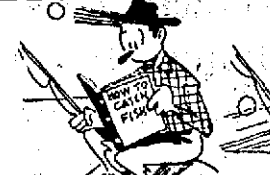

"I like it at first base," he said. "It's easier on me and could extend my career. You don't have to make the long throw and you don't have to field so many ground balls."

Carolina Gets Chance To Knot ACC Race

By The Associated Press

North Carolina got its chance today to share again with Duke the top seat in the Atlantic Coast Conference baseball standings.

The Tar Heels entertained Wake Forest in the ACC's only scheduled game today.

The Blue Devils don't return to action until Saturday, against North Carolina State. A win by North Carolina today could put the lead into a tie.

South Carolina bagged one run in the first inning, one in the third and another in the sixth to take a 3-2 win over The Citadel in yesterday's only game involving an ACC team.

Elk Garden, Keyser Central Adds To Clash Tomorrow

The title hopes of Elk Garden for the championship in the Potomac Valley Conference baseball chase will be given their severest test tomorrow afternoon. Then, the Stags meet one of the two clubs tied for the lead by playing host to undefeated Keyser.

Before the Elks come up against the Golden Tornado they have a makeup contest this afternoon against Romney at home. The Stags, with three wins for as many attempts, will be facing a club that has scored only two runs in three losing efforts today. Romney was blanked by both the PVC leaders, Keyser (15-0) and Moorefield (2-0), before crashing into the scoring column and losing for the third time, 3-2, against town-rival West Virginia Deaf on Tuesday afternoon.

Meet Next Week Again Elk Garden, with easy wins over Southern of Oakland, 6-0; West Virginia Deaf, 11-3; and Fort Ashby, 5-2, will meet Keyser twice within the next week. After tomorrow's tilt at home the Stags and Tornado have their close-out game of the series Friday a week in Keyser.

With victories in both contests, the Stags could kill the chances of Keyser for the title. Then, after today's game with the Pioneers, the forces of coach Paul Kalbaugh have remaining tilts against West Virginia Deaf, Romney, Fort Ashby and Southern. The Stags do not meet Moorefield, kingpin of the loop the last three seasons.

With a split in their Keyser series, providing Elk Garden gets past Romney this afternoon, West Virginia Deaf could hold the chances of both the Stags and Tornado from here out. The Lions have improved since early season and also have a date remaining with Keyser. Otherwise the Tornado should have little trouble in taking Petersburg, Romney and Southern across in their other games before closing out the spring campaign.

Game Postponed Moorefield was to have invaded Romney tomorrow afternoon but the contest was moved back to Thursday, May 16. The Jacks haven't tasted defeat since the 1954 season and have clipped off 27 straight victims, including five this season.

Barring what would have to be a big surprise, the Jacks have a great chance of finishing their third undefeated year in a row against PVC opponents. Winning 10 in both 1955 and 1956, Moorefield's remaining foes all have yet to show any signs of threatening gestures.

Along with the Pioneers, who were blanked, 2-0, Moorefield will meet Circleville (1-3) twice, Petersburg (0-4) and Southern (2-3) before closing up shop. The Vikings were battered, 15-5, in the first meeting of the clubs.

Three other contests are listed tomorrow afternoon with Capon Bridge invading Romney to meet West Virginia Deaf, Petersburg bracing for game against Circleville on the Vikings' field and Paw Paw clashing with Wardensville on the Pirates' home grounds.

Berkeley Springs will have an out-of-the-loop engagement against Hancock on the latter's field with the Indians out for a sweep in the two-game set. Berkeley had little trouble winning the opener, 18-8. Berkeley's next PVC tilt will be on Monday against Paw Paw on the Pirates' diamond.

FLANAGAN EASILY

Defeats Gavilan

ST. PAUL (A) — Del Flanagan had the choicest victory of his welterweight comeback and the fastest check of his career rolled into a neat package today — and

Kid Gavilan had a mild apology.

Flanagan outmaneuvered

the onetime champion from start to finish last night for a remarkably simple 10-round decision before a crowd of 9,434 that paid

a record Minnesota gate of $43,

796.

Gavilan, acknowledging that

Flanagan was "one of the smartest" fighters he ever met in his long career, said he was sorry he couldn't make a better fight of it before the big crowd.

But he couldn't agree that he didn't win so much as a round.

Referee Billy McCabe had it 100-

91, Judge John Stanton 100-92 and

Judge Dick Delancy 100-93.

Striking Workers Return

BALTIMORE (AP) — About 1,000 steelworkers at the Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. plant here have returned to work after a one-day walkout.

Union sources said they reached agreement last night with management representatives. Both union and management sources refused to reveal terms of the settlement.

Unofficial sources said the workers left their jobs yesterday following the downgrading of supervisory personnel. The company declined comment on the reports.

Coal Through Water

STALINO, Russia (AP) — Soviet engineers are designing new coal mines in the Donbas fields to operate by hydraulic power. Strong water jets will carry coal to the headings from where it will be "piped" to the surface through high pressure water tubes. Engineers claim one such mine using 650 workers can produce 5,000 tons of coal daily.

West opened the deuce of clubs. East cashed the ace and king and laid down the ace of trumps. He then played low to dummy's four diamonds and the suit would queen, fished for East's jack break.

cards and dropped the queen of clubs and two hearts.

South led the ten of diamonds and West made a brilliant play. He covered with the jack. This was allowed to hold and West promptly played the deuce.

South went into deep communion with himself and finally decided that West really had started with four diamonds. Hence South finessed dummy's nine and allowed East's singleton queen to make a trick. Now South had to lose both his low hearts and wound up down three tricks on a lay-down hand.

West had made a couple of brilliant plays but there was no real reason for South to have gone wrong. If he had analyzed the bidding he would have realized that West could not hold more than three diamonds.

Hence West must have held six hearts. Adding three clubs and one spade would only leave three diamonds. West could not hold more than three diamonds and the suit would queen, fished for East's jack break.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the puzzle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

A brother, John J. House, RD 1, Oldtown, had gone to Seattle to visit his brother, who had complained of ill health.

John House tried unsuccessfully to get his brother to undergo medical treatment there, but the man insisted he would prefer to return to Cumberland.

They boarded the plane at Seattle about 7 a. m. Monday. About 400 miles from Seattle, while the airliner was flying at 19,000 feet, Charles House died of a heart attack.

He was dead when the plane made an emergency landing at Boise, Idaho, to get the aid of a physician for him.

The body will be at the Haler Funeral Home after 2 p. m. Friday. A funeral service will be conducted there at 3:30 p. m. Sunday by Rev. Dr. E. E. Miller, pastor of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church. Interment will be in Oldtown Cemetery.

Mr. House was born at Oldtown, a son of the late Charles Samuel and Ruth Emeline (Piper) House. A merchant mariner, he had lived in Seattle the past 15 years.

Besides his brother, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mason Davis, North Branch, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Bridge Club will provide the trophy for the women's pair winners. The Potomac Valley Bridge Club trophy will go to the men's pair winners, and the S. T. Little Jewelry Company will provide the trophy for the mixed pair champions.

The top prize in the tournament, the Cumberland Times-News trophy, goes to the winners in the open pair event. This trophy must be won three times for permanent possession, Heacock explained.

Players who need partners for the various events in the tourney are to contact the chairmen or members of the committees. They are:

Master pair, Edgar Dawson, chairman, Robert Dezen, Mrs. George Bortoff, Theodore Gray and Miss Rose Jackson; non-master pairs, Mrs. Madeline Mewshaw, chairman, Mrs. William Torkington, Mrs. William Frailey and Capt. R. A. Clark.

Women's pairs, Mrs. Robert Knepp, chairman, Miss Alice Stakem and Mrs. Frederick Puderbaugh; men's pairs, Thomas Hannon, chairman, James Prockorn and J. D. The tournament reception committee is composed of Mrs. A. J. Feigus and William A. Douglas, co-chairmen, John R. Wilkinson, A. D. Heacock, Mrs. Norman Taylor, S. Russ Minter, John Schaidt, Miss Julia Jackson, Mrs. William A. Douglas, Mrs. Arthur Friedland and H. Gassaway Shores.

Master points will be awarded in all events in accordance with the usual formula for sectional tournaments, Heacock said.
